Composing for the Screen 2015: A Film Scoring Mentorship Program

Sponsored by BMI and directed by composer Rick Baitz, this program selects a small number of emerging film composers and provides a series of six workshops, followed by year-round consultation and development.

The dates and times are:

THURSDAY, Sept. 10, 4-7 PM
THURSDAY, Sept. 17, 4-7 PM
THURSDAY, Sept. 24, 4-7 PM
THURSDAY, Oct. 1, 4-7 PM
(two-week break to prepare final project)
THURSDAY, Oct. 15 - Recording session, 3:30-7PM, location TBA
THURSDAY, Oct. 22, 4-7 PM

All classes will take place at the BMI Media Room, 7 World Trade Center, 250 Greenwich St, NYC 10007. (The Oct. 15 recording session will be in a separate location.) Classes are taught by Rick Baitz. Class size will be limited to nine.

Fee: The workshop is free to qualified participants; costs are underwritten by BMI.

(Note: accepted students are responsible for their own transportation to and accommodations in the New York area for the six-week duration of the workshop. Enrollees must commit to attendance at all six sessions.)

Qualifications: Experience and credits as a composer; film scoring experience preferred. Ability to read and write music. Access to music production equipment: computer, DAW (Logic, Digital Performer, ProTools, Cubase, etc.), notation software (Sibelius, Finale); ability to create MIDI or hybrid scores.
